Queensland is experiencing the most sustained period of economic and population growth in its history.

In shaping the 2008-09 Budget, the Government has chosen to build tomorrow’s Queensland today.

The State’s prosperity is generating unprecedented demand for housing, healthcare, schools, transport, other essential services and vital infrastructure throughout Queensland’s regions.

The Budget delivers massive injections of funding to our public hospitals and healthcare system. It funds the biggest capital works program in the State’s history.

It increases services to the regions and delivers vital long-term social and economic infrastructure for the benefit of all Queenslanders.

A centrepiece of this Budget is tax cuts to help Queenslanders purchase their first home.

Queensland’s success is built on the success of our regions, from the fast-paced expansion of the south-east corner to the agricultural heartlands, the booming hubs of mining activity and the vibrant growth of coastal areas.

This document sets out the Government’s investment commitment to address the changing needs of the Wide Bay-Burnett region.
Every five years the Census provides a snapshot of Australian society. It measures many characteristics including our age and birthplace, language spoken and religion, if we need assistance to perform everyday activities or to participate in community life and the work we do (paid or unpaid) and how we get there.

What did the 2006 Census reveal about your community? Take a look below for a snapshot of life in the Wide Bay-Burnett region.

The work we do

Engineers, nurses, carers, sales representatives, urban and regional planners, electricians, boat repairers – Wide Bay-Burnett residents work in a diverse range of jobs. Census data shows 12.7% of people living in the Wide Bay-Burnett region are employed in the retail trade industry, while the healthcare and social assistance industry accounts for 11.1%. Agriculture, forestry and fishing (10.3%) manufacturing (9.8%), and construction (9%) are the other major employment industries in this growing region.

Our qualifications

Strong population growth in the Wide Bay-Burnett region has brought with it an increase in the number of skilled workers. Just over 50% of people living in our region now hold “beyond” school qualifications – a 12.5 percentage point increase compared to 1996 Census results (see graph). Of these qualifications, 15.4% are degree or higher, 11% are advanced diploma or diploma and 43.6% are certificate level. Just over 30% of Wide Bay-Burnett residents who identified with having a ‘beyond’ school qualification did not indicate the level of education received.

How much we earn

We’ve certainly noticed an increase in the cost of living over the years, and as it rises so too does our income.

At the time of the 1996 Census, the median weekly household income for the Wide Bay-Burnett region was $438. In 2006 the median weekly income for households in our region was $621 – that’s almost 42% more than we earned 10 years earlier.

Household projections

Families come in all shapes and sizes and between now and 2026 we can expect to see a lot more of them. But what type of family will occupy most Queensland homes? For the last decade most Queensland households have consisted of couples with children. However household projections forecast that, over the next decade and beyond, the makeup of homes throughout our State will dramatically change.

Throughout our State an ageing population, declining fertility rates among younger couples, and baby boomers becoming ‘empty nesters’ will result in the number of couples without children and lone person households taking over as the most common types.

Take a look to the right to see how households in the Wide Bay-Burnett region are likely to change between now and 2026.

Covering an area of 52,377 square kilometres or around 3% of the State, Wide Bay-Burnett is home to 6.6% of Queensland’s total population. Almost 276,0001 Queenslanders now call our region home – that’s 2.4% more than the year before.

Boasting national parks, pristine beaches, a range of tourism, educational, sporting, cultural, leisure, arts and recreation facilities and opportunities, this growing region is sought after for its unique environment and enviable and sustainable lifestyle. Add to this a diverse and vibrant economy that’s close to the business and career opportunities of the State’s south-east corner and you can see why more and more people are choosing this region in which to work, live and play.

The Queensland Government recognises the role Wide Bay-Burnett has played in increasing our State’s prosperity and sustaining its economic and social growth.

This Regional Budget Statement highlights the Government’s commitment to the region and its people.
